WINS IN THE NINTH

COMETS HAD A THRILLING RALLY IN THE LAST.

OSWALT STRIKE OUTS 16

Falls City and Clarinda Both Lost Yesterday and the Comets Are Sure in Second Place.

A thrilling ninth inning rally by the Comets, bringing the fans screaming to their feet, put the wash day game on ice, 5 to 4. The Comets out-hit and outpitched Auburn all the way through. Oswalt was twirling record breaking twisters, allowing only four hits and whiffing sixteen men. Charlesworth, his opponent, was stung safely ten times by the locals, and he fooled only two of them into entering the ozone club.

With the score 3 to 2 in the Comets' favor, Cook had the bad luck to drop a fly ball, letting in two runs. It looked like a sure defeat. Black could have tied the score in the seventh, but failed to do so on a misunderstanding with the coach. He had reached first on an error, Oswalt and Sackett fled out, and then Dietz knocked a long fly to right which Primley dropped. Black slowed down and stopped at third when he could have been safely in. Wintz hit an easy grounder to Brewer for the third out. A slugging finish in the ninth put two runs across with two men out.

It was a fast and scrappy game, with several fielding stunts for the benefit of the spectators. Free, the Auburn shortstop, ate up everything that came near him, running away with the fielding honors. He handled eight chances perfectly. Wintz made a great catch in the ninth, putting batter No. 1 in cold storage. Free knocked a high foul back of the visiting players' bench which was entirely out of Dietz's reach. Wintz raced in from third, scattering players and spectators, and freezing on to the pill at the last moment.

Both teams passed up the first inning before consenting to take any runs. They started in the second and finished in a knot, 1 to 1. For Auburn, Free singled, Dygert whiffed, Morris fled to Walsh and Musser singled, bringing in their lonely. Charlesworth chopped for No. 3.

Walsh started the Comets off with a single and DeCamp landed the initial with a fielder's choice, Walsh reaching third on Charlesworth's error. Bacon sacrificed, squeezing Walsh in. Black and Oswalt grounded to Free for the last two outs.

The next round started with Kraninger chopping. L. Bright slammed a three-bagger into center and scored on Primley's fly to Black. Brewer whiffed for the necessary.

Free killed Sackett's grounder for the start of the Comets' half. Dietz and Wintz singled, Cook taking fielder's choice when Dietz was thrown out at the plate by Free. Walsh singled, registering Wintz, and DeCamp followed suit for another score. Walsh was caught at home, trying to execute a double steal with Gus.

The fourth, fifth and sixth were passed up. Free started the seventh with a single. Dygert reached first on Bacon's error and stole second. Cook then dropped Moore's fly, letting in two runs. Oswalt trimmed Musser and Charlesworth, and Kraninger was Auburn kept her lead until the last of the ninth, when Black started with a single. Griffin was put in to bat for Oswalt and sacrificed Black to second. Sackett pounded a single into left for the knot. Dietz drew a pass, but was caught on first by a quick throw from Musser. Wintz dropped a fly safely into left and ended the last chapter, bringing Sackett over the final.

Notes.

Only three games behind the leaders, with a lead of two games and a half over Clarinda for second place. Kissane is his name, and he does some umpiring, too.

Claud Cook isn't eating up the home runs just at present, but do you notice the scores that are being made on his long flies. He is getting a fair number of hits, too.

We should get two of the games with Shenandoah, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and then next week it will be a scrap here at home with Falls City.

Wintz and Walsh were again to the front in the heavy sticking, Monday, 1750 apiece.

NOW IS THE TIME TO CUT YOUR WEEDS

The city officials wish that the property owners would see to it that the weeds are cut. The city, by its street commissioner, E. F. Tilton, has been cutting weeds off the city property, and would like to have the citizens do the same. It improves things wonderfully by having the weeds cut.

SENATE WOKE UP

AFTER MONTHS OF INACTION UP- PER HOUSE "GETS A MOVE ON."

RECIPROCITY INEVITABLE

Senator Root Voiced His Conviction That Tariff Legislation Was Demanded by the People.

By VAN CLEVE.

Washington, D. C., June 24.—Within the present week the house of representatives has passed the revision of the wool schedule, refused to concur in the Bristow amendment to the bill for direct election of senators, King George has been crowned, the president has had his party and the senate has come to life. This latter was the most sensational and noteworthy event of all.

After ten weeks of determined inactivity the thunders rolled, the firmament flashed, the winds howled and from the chaotic depths of the mighty unknown there stepped forth, in full battle array, a new and potential force, a coalition of Democrats and insurgents. With glistening armor and intrepid mien they commanded the heretofore imperturbable and impregnable hosts of the finance committee to come forth, and they straightway came forth and fell upon their knees. How long they will remain there is another question. Whether the allies of today will be allies tomorrow is unknown. They have a common cause to a certain extent, but there are many discordant elements and conflicting interests.

Chairman Penrose of Pennsylvania had explained to the senate boldly and defiantly as the courteous rules of that amiable body will permit, that the committee didn't ever expect to report the free list bill and would insist on a long period of hearings before it would even consider the wool bill. It is now nearly the first of July and the "hearings" dodge is getting threadbare. It is the favorite method of delay, to summon men to come from California and Montana and other far-off states and testify instead of wading into the volumes of testimony already on file here. They held up the reciprocity bill for nine weeks with hearings and then reported it to the senate without any recommendations whatever. Senator Gore had asked that the wool bill affecting only one schedule be reported by July 10. Mr. Penrose insisted it would be impossible, although he admitted that the Payne-Aldrich bill, carrying thirteen schedules and four thousand items, was reported within forty-eight hours after it was received from the house.

That was when the senate woke up. It slept over the proposition one night and then the great finance committee, the citadel of ultra protection and the bulwark behind which trust magnates rest in security, was stormed. It was peremptorily ordered to produce on or before July 10 by a vote of 39 to 18. Mr. Penrose, in a huff at this audacious display of nerve on the part of the senate, found he didn't need so much time and reported both bills next day adversely, of course.

So the whole tariff proposition was before the senate and the members of the house mopped their perspiring brows and began to apply for leaves of absence that they might go home and visit their families before the snow flies. What will happen no man can foresee. The Democrats and insurgents came together on this matter, but not for the same purpose entirely. All hands resented the impudence of the finance committee and grasped the opportunity to show them a new trick independent of standpat shackles. The Democrats wanted to get the bills before the senate because they want to share in the excellent work of the house, and they believe they can marshal enough votes from one source and another to pass them. At least they can get action on them. Senator Bailey is opposed to the reciprocity bill without a general revision of the tariff. The insurgents are opposed to President Taft, most of them, and hope to involve his pet measure in a maze of amendments or pass it in such shape that he will be compelled to veto it or swallow a bitter pill. In either case Mr. Taft will be in the hole and Mr. LaFollette will be happy.

This is a vain hope, however. It was agreed yesterday to vote on the Root amendment Monday, and it is a safe prediction that no amendments will be attached to the bill. The Democrats are determined to give it to the president just as he wants it, and his Republican friends will help to do this. They fear that a general mix up will result in nothing, and John Sharpe Williams of Mississippi says they won't even allow the Lord's prayer to be tacked onto it. So the one thing that seems more certain just now than all others is that the reciprocity bill will be passed just as it came from the house.

There are some evidences that the standpatters have decided that if they can't defeat legislation they will join in on it and save some of the glory to themselves. At least it is evident that the consecrated wall of protection for protection's sake is crumbling. The chief argument of the standpatters against the reciprocity bill has been that it violated the policy of protection, which, according to the ultra protectionist theory is always subject to increase but never to reduction, and that it would establish a precedent that would mean the ultimate breaking down of the tariff wall. This in itself is an admission that it is a good thing for the people, else why should they fear that the people would want more of it?

Senator Root of New York, one of the shrewdest and ablest leaders of the Republican side, made what is considered a remarkable speech this week in defense of the reciprocity bill. It was remarkable simply because of his prominence and his position heretofore with reference to the tariff. Mr. Root stated that he is for the bill, even without the amendment which he insisted on offering in the interest of the paper mills of his state. In arriving at this conclusion he had given due thought to these manufacturing interests and to the considerable number of farmers in his state along the border who feared that reciprocity with Canada might be to their detriment. "Nevertheless," said he, "I do still believe that the enactment of this reciprocal agreement with Canada is for the best and the permanent interest of our country, and I must be for it."

"I think, sir, that my friends, the farmers in New York and the farmers all along the northern border, are unduly apprehensive. I think that they have greatly exaggerated in their own minds the injury which will come to them from the enactment of this measure. It is but natural that they should. All experience in the enactment of tariff laws indicates that those whose business is to be affected greatly exaggerate the injury which they apprehend from any legislation that at all reduces the measure of protection which they have had."

"I think, Mr. President, that the apprehension of injury, which is natural to any class of producers as to whom there is a proposal to reduce the tariff, is very readily to be answered by the fact that the two countries are under substantially the same conditions. There may be little differences in labor cost here and there, but, in general, the labor conditions of Canada and the labor conditions of the United States are the same. It is not a question of competing with the familiar adversary, the pauper labor of Europe. The two countries are similar in their social conditions, in their laws, in their manner of doing business, of thinking and of acting, in their individual independence, and in their power to maintain their wage scale; and the proposal to take down the tariff wall between Canada and the United States, insofar as it is taken down by this reciprocity agreement, is much more like the taking down of a tariff wall between two states than it is the taking down of a tariff wall between the United States and the countries of Europe; and, for reasons which I shall give presently, I think that any ill effect that may be produced upon any of our farmers will be more than counterbalanced by the advantages which they will derive in common with the whole American people from the enactment of the bill."

"I wish to say one word further with special reference to the effect of this law upon the farmer. If I were at home I would say it in private conversation to my farmer friends about me in the country, and that is this: The taking off of the duty on farm products between this country and Canada, while it will in a technical sense, a strict sense, be accomplished by the passage of this bill, nevertheless was inevitable; and if it did not come in this bill it would come in its own way by ordinary tariff legislation.

"No one can mistake, no one ought to be blind himself as to mistake, the changed feeling of the people of this country regarding the tariff as exhibited by the election of last fall, and not only by the election of last fall, but exhibited in 10,000 expressions all over the country and exhibited in the highest degree by the possibility of (Continued on page 2.)

PROGRAM FOR 4TH

AN ABUNDANCE OF ENTERTAINMENT IS ASSURED.

WILL BE A BIG DAY

"Saints Highway" is to Be Dedicated on That Day—The Attractions That Will Be Here.

Unless all signs fail the Fourth of July celebration in Maryville will be a success, and one continuous round of pleasure for everybody. The celebration has been well advertised and a large number of people are expected in the city on that day. The committees in charge of the affair have been untiring in their efforts and have succeeded in arranging a program that ought to appeal to all classes of people and afford genuine entertainment for everybody.

The dedication of the "Saints Highway," which is now established, the signboards being up, will take place on that day, and President Gerlach of Sharpsburg, Ia., and many other officers of the highway will be here. A feature will be an automobile parade in the morning of the Fourth, and autoists along the "Saints Highway," and also in Nodaway county, have been extended an invitation to participate. The St. Joseph Automobile club has been given an invitation to attend.

Another main feature of the celebration will be the basket dinner out in Normal park. The Normal park has been secured and all of the attractions in the afternoon are to be pulled off out there. In the evening the attractions are to be on the court house square.

The day's program will start at 7 o'clock, when a salute of three bombs will be given. Another salute at 8 and one at 9 will be given. From 9 to 10 the Maryville band will march around the business section of the city, furnishing music.

At 10 o'clock a. m. the auto parade will start and will pass around the square and then out to Normal park. It is fully expected that over a hundred out-of-town cars will be in the parade.

Then at 11 o'clock the exercises at the Normal grandstand will take place, which will include speaking, singing and many other features.

From 12 to 1:30 o'clock the basket dinner at Normal park will be given. The farmers who expect to celebrate here are urged to bring their dinners. All of the conveniences necessary will be provided at the park for their comfort.

In the afternoon another salute of three bombs will be given at 1 o'clock, which will be followed by a band concert at the grandstand in the park. At 2 o'clock LaGrecia and Norworth will give their special stunt. These people are Orpheum circuit stars and have a good line of entertainment. Then there will be another band concert, which will be followed by acrobatic stunts from Price & Ellsberry. At 2:50 Japanese day fireworks will be given, and at 3 LaGrecia and Norworth will give another entertainment.

For the rest of the afternoon band concerts will be given by the Maryville and Silver City, Ia., bands.

A double-header ball game between Maryville and Falls City is scheduled, one game being in the morning at 10 o'clock and the other in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, both games to be played at the ball park.

In the evening band concerts will be given in the court house yard, which will be followed by another entertainment by LaGrecia and Norworth. No fireworks will be used at night, as the committee intends that the celebration shall be a safe and sane one.

The merchants and citizens are requested by the committee in charge to decorate their business houses and residences.

The program is one of clean, wholesome entertainment, and one to which Maryville cordially invites the people of the surrounding country. Be sure and come.

Dr. Bricker followed with a farewell response to the speeches, and although his brethren and friends are proud that he has been called to one of the greatest churches in their denomination, they were indeed loth to give him up, and it was a sad time, notwithstanding the effort all made to make the departure of their pastor and his family happy and pleasant. After the speech making and music an informal reception was held and punch was served in the Sunday school room. When it was near time for the train a large crowd went to the Wash depot to see Dr. Bricker and his family off for their new home in Atlanta. Free Sample Aids Old Men

The sudden change from years of activity of both body and mind to the quiet of later years causes the human system to undergo many changes, chief of which is in the digestive organs.

It becomes harder and harder to get the bowels to move promptly and regularly and in consequence many elderly men suffer not only from the basic trouble, constipation, but from indigestion, headache, belching, sour stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar annoyances. It is first of all necessary to keep the bowels open and then to tone the digestive muscles so as to get them to again do their work naturally. A remedy of this kind is not only unnecessary but harmful, and something mild will do the work just as well.

After you have got through experimenting with salts and pills and waters of various kinds, and have become convinced that they do only temporary good at best, then try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild, gentle, pleasant-tasting laxative tonic that is especially adapted to the requirements of old people, women and children, and yet is effective enough for anybody. Your druggist, who has handled it successfully for a quarter of a century, will sell you a bottle for fifty cents or one dollar, but if you want to make a test of it before spending any money send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and he will gladly send you a sample bottle free of charge.

This remedy is rapidly displacing all other forms of medication for the cure of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, and families like Mr. O. F. Wisner's of Byramore, Ill., and Mrs. Carrie Cullen's of 235 N. Notre Dame street, South Bend, Ind., are now never without it in the house. They have tested it and know its grand value to every member of the family.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 600, Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

TELLS OF TALK WITH HINES.

In Reply to Request for $10,000 Witness Says He Told Hines That Harvester Company Was Not in That Kind of Business.

Washington, June 27.—Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, who gave an account to the Helm bribery investigation committee of an alleged request to him by Edward Hines of Chicago for a $10,000 contribution to ward a $100,000 Lorimer election fund, appeared before the Lorimer senate investigating committee.

As he took the stand, Funk faced Hines, who had been given special permission to attend the hearing instead of being required to stay in the witness room.

Funk repeated his story of the conversation with Hines, in which the request for the $10,000 is said to have been made. He said he told Hines that the harvester company was not in that kind of business and left him. Funk testified that he had not only been threatened, but that he had been followed by detectives ever since he testified in Springfield. He said four detectives are following him in Washington, two trailing him to the senate building after luncheon. He said one detective confessed he was hired to "get anything on him he could."

Funk tried without result to discover the detectives in the audience. He protested against making public the name of the man who confessed, saying he was a "nice fellow" and that he had given his word not to reveal his name.

"I got him in a place where he had to tell me," said Funk. "He said he was not proud of the job, but had to do it."

Funk said the man was employed by the Thiele detective agency of Chicago; that he had told him who his employer was, and the witness added that the employer was not Senator Lorimer. Attorney Hynes and Senator Gamble insisted upon the name, and Funk replied:

"Put Edward Hines on the witness stand if you want to find out to whom the detective reports."

The committee immediately went into executive session to consider the matter.

At the executive session, Funk is said to have revealed the detective's name and promised to produce him before the committee if possible. The committee then took up consideration of steps to prevent detectives interfering with witnesses.

"No one may suppose that this arrangement could be made by the president, carried through the house, certain of passage here in the senate, if there were not a great public opinion behind it. What we say here is of little consequence. Our arguments do not advance or retard it. It is moving along with a public opinion behind it."

"I never have thought that the duties which were imposed upon farm products were of any real general benefit to the farmer. They have been quite indifferent, affecting only several localities here and there, so long as our production ran far ahead of our consumption."

So here is the testimony of the great Ellihu Root. He admitted in the course of his remarks that the day of ultra protection has gone never to return, and he went further and told his followers who have been assuming that protection should be levied for individual protection that that policy was no longer defensible, and that no tariff should be levied that did not have for its object the benefit of the whole country.

Mr. Taft, speaking in Rhode Island last night, delivered himself of this important statement:

"We must recognize that the time of the Chinese wall is gone, and the time is gone when an industry must ask for more protection than it absolutely needs."

Indeed a remarkable statement coming from the man who said the Payne-Aldrich tariff law was the best ever enacted. Bill once was deaf, but now he hears.

OBITUARY.

Following is an obituary notice of the late Mrs. Mary McGrew, who died at her home, six miles west of Barnard, June 21, after a residence there of forty-one years:

Mary Shaner was born in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, April 10, 1828. On the 30th day of April, 1846, she was united in marriage to Archibald B. McGrew. To this union fourteen children were born, seven of whom are living. They are Mrs. Mary E. Bigelow of Denver, Col.; Mrs. Rebecca B. Hefflin of Wilcox, Mo.; Hallie May, who has always lived at home; Charles O. McGrew, who resides on the old homestead; Brintel N. McGrew, on an adjoining farm; Daniel W. McGrew of Graham, Mo.; Jessie F., the wife of Charles J. Colden of Maryville.

On the 20th day of August, 1870, Mrs. McGrew and her family settled on the farm six miles west of Barnard, where the rest of her life was spent. Her husband died there a few years later, leaving her with a large family of small children, to whom she devoted her life, and they were not ungrateful to her, when, because of the infirmities of age, she needed their care and attention.

Some fifty years ago she obeyed the gospel of Christ, and through all the succeeding half century she continued faithful to her vows.

On the 21st day of June, 1911, her spirit passed to the God who gave it. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon of June 22 seats were arranged under the spreading branches of the great trees which her hands had planted in the yard at the old home, where a number of friends had gathered, and after a sermon by Elder W. A. Chapman of Rosendale, who was her pastor for several years, the body was laid to rest in Bethany cemetery.

SENATE REJECTS ROOT AMENDMENT

Proposal to Change Pulp and Paper Section Lost.

ROLL CALL IS NOT DEMANDED

Friends and Enemies of Canadian Reciprocity Refuse to Vote for Change. Leaves Measure Open to General Fight That is to Follow.

Washington, June 27.—The Canadian reciprocity bill emerged from its first ordeal in the senate unscathed. The Root amendment, proposing a modification of the wood pulp and print paper section of the agreement, was defeated after seven hours of debate by an overwhelming vote. The friends of the amendment were so satisfied of its defeat that a roll call was not demanded.

This leaves the reciprocity measure open to the general fight that is to follow for amendment of important provisions in the Payne tariff law. Senator La Follette announced that he would give the senate a chance to pass on general tariff amendments for free paper, free lumber and lumber products, and for reductions in other schedules. Senator Clapp also announced his intention of offering a free paper amendment later, and other senators gave evidence of their purpose to force consideration of tariff revision on the widest plane.

Attack on the Root amendment was interspersed with attack on the whole reciprocity measure in the debate which resulted in the defeat of Senator Root's proposal to change the house bill by requiring that all Canadian provinces should remove their export restrictions on pulp wood and its products before the reciprocal features of the wood pulp and print paper section of the agreement went into effect.

Senator Thornton (La.) denounced the measure on the ground that it discriminated against the agricultural element.

Throws Light on Quarrel Preceding Double Killing in Denver Hotel.

Denver, June 27.—All bars against the testimony of Mrs. John W. Springer in the trial of Frank H. Von Phul previous to the shooting. Mrs. Springer was immediately summoned to appear in court.

Mrs. Springer testified to threats made by Henwood against Von Phul. She also testified that Von Phul had struck her the evening before the shooting affray and twice on previous occasions. She had told Henwood of these acts. She also said that Von Phul had taken from the apartments of herself and husband two photographs of Henwood and had torn them up in her presence.

ALASKA COAL CLAIMS VOID

Secretary Fisher Makes Decision in Cunningham Case.

EVIDENCE OF FRAUD APPARENT

Finding of Commissioner Dennett, Which Discusses Evidence at Length, Is Approved—Says New Laws Are Needed in Alaska.

Washington, June 27.—The famous Cunningham Alaskan coal lands claims, through which it has been alleged that the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate had planned to extend their vast interests to Alaska and to control one of the most valuable fields in the world, were finally disallowed by the department of the interior.

Secretary of Interior Walter Fisher, having approved the department's decision as handed down by Fred Dennett, commissioner of the land office, the last door is believed to have been closed to the Cunningham claimants. Their attorneys have threatened an appeal to the United States supreme court, but such an appeal can be based only on some point of law involved, and not on the findings of fact, as announced by the department.

The Cunningham claims have been in the public eye constantly for more than two years past. They brought about the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation by congress and the dismissal from the public services of Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot, Louis R. Glavis, a chief of field division in the land office, and several minor officials. Both Messrs. Pinchot and Glavis were dismissed for insubordination incident to their attacks on former Secretary Ballinger, whom they claimed was favorably disposed toward the claims.

New Laws Are Needed.

In announcing the decision of the department, Secretary Fisher, who succeeded Ballinger in March last, declared that new coal land laws are needed in Alaska if that territory is to be developed properly. In a statement the secretary said:

"This is a final decision of the Cunningham claims so far as the department of the interior is concerned. Any further proceedings will be merely formal for the purpose of perfecting the record in case the claimants think there are questions of law which they desire to present to the courts. It is my understanding that it is conceded that the finding upon the facts by the department are conclusive.

"It is the intention of the department to proceed at once to a final determination of all the remaining Alaskan coal claims so far as this can properly be done, denying those that should be denied and granting those that should be granted as rapidly as possible."

Evidences of Fraud Apparent.

Commissioner Dennett, in his decision holding the claims for cancellation on the ground of fraud, declares that each of the thirty-three entries was improperly allowed because of fatal defects apparent on their face.

He asserts that the government conclusively established the charges brought against the claimants and there is no doubt that an agreement existed among them in violation of the law.

The thirty-three claims involved amounted to an aggregate of 5,250 acres. The value of the land has been estimated high in the millions. The coal embraced in the claims is said to be among the finest in the world.

Commissioner Dennett makes frequent reference to the work of Glavis in prosecuting the government's case against the Cunningham claimants. He also refers at length to the negotiations between Cunningham and representatives of the Guggenheims, who were shown at the Ballinger-Pinchot hearing to have taken an option on these coal lands, which were to be worked in connection with the other extensive Guggenheim interests in Alaska.

The government charges against Cunningham and his associates that their entries of the coal land were made in pursuance of an understanding and agreement, entered into by all the claimants prior to location, to combine the several claims for the joint use and benefit of all. It was further claimed that the entries were made with the unlawful purpose that they should inure to the use and benefit of an association or corporation.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.

Everybody Knows Something About Lumber Values

these days, but the homebuilder who listens to the cry of "wait until lumber is cheaper" is not apt to be any nearer his goal on his deathbed than he is today. The Government recommends TIMBER CONSERVATION and this alone is proof that lumber has a fixed value.

Our years of experience in buying and selling lumber lead us to advise our friends that NOW'S THE TIME TO BUILD. There's but one crop of timber for most of us. If you contemplate a new home we want to talk with you—we have all grades of lumber. The lowest quality starts at good and goes up. Give us a call and learn the facts about these lumber values.

WINS IN THE NINTH

COMETS HAD A THRILLING RALLY IN THE LAST.

OSWALT STRIKE OUTS 16

Falls City and Clarinda Both Lost Yesterday and the Comets Are Sure in Second Place.

A thrilling ninth inning rally by the Comets, bringing the fans screaming to their feet, put the wash day game on ice, 5 to 4. The Comets out-hit and outpitched Auburn all the way through. Oswalt was twirling record breaking twisters, allowing only four hits and whiffing sixteen men. Charlesworth, his opponent, was stung safely ten times by the locals, and he fooled only two of them into entering the ozone club.

With the score 3 to 2 in the Comets' favor, Cook had the bad luck to drop a fly ball, letting in two runs. It looked like a sure defeat. Black could have tied the score in the seventh, but failed to do so on a misunderstanding with the coacher. He had reached first on an error, Oswalt and Sackett fled out, and then Dietz knocked a long fly to right which Primley dropped. Black slowed down and stopped at third when he could have been safely in. Wintz hit an easy grounder to Brewer for the third out. A slugging finish in the ninth put two runs across with two men out.

It was a fast and scrappy game, with several fielding stunts for the benefit of the spectators. Free, the Auburn shortstop, ate up everything that came near him, running away with the fielding honors. He handled eight chances perfectly. Wintz made a great catch in the ninth, putting batter No. 1 in cold storage. Free knocked a high foul back of the visiting players' bench which was entirely out of Dietz's reach. Wintz raced in from third, scattering players and spectators, and freezing on to the pill at the last moment.

Both teams passed up the first inning before consenting to take any runs. They started in the second and finished in a knot, 1 to 1. For Auburn, Free singled, Dygert whiffed, Morris fled to Walsh and Musser singled, bringing in their lonely. Charlesworth chopped for No. 3.

Walsh started the Comets off with a single and DeCamp landed the initial with a fielder's choice, Walsh reaching third on Charlesworth's error. Bacom sacrificed, squeezing Walsh in. Black and Oswalt grounded to Free for the last two outs.

The next round started with Kraninger chopping. L. Bright slammed a three-bagger into center and scored on Primley's fly to Black. Brewer whiffed for the necessary.

Free killed Sackett's grounder for the start of the Comets half. Dietz and Wintz singled, Cook taking fielder's choice when Dietz was thrown out at the plate by Free. Walsh singled, registering Wintz, and DeCamp followed suit for another score. Walsh was caught at home, trying to execute a double steal with Gus.

The fourth, fifth and sixth were passed up. Free started the seventh with a single. Dygert reached first on Bacom's error and stole second. Cook then dropped Moore's fly, letting in two runs. Oswalt trimmed Musser and Charlesworth, and Kraninger was

Auburn kept her lead until the last of the ninth, when Black started with a single. Griffin was put in to bat for Oswalt and sacrificed Black to second. Sackett pounded a single into left for the knot. Dietz drew a pass, but was caught on first by a quick throw from Musser. Wintz dropped a fly safely into left and ended the last chapter, bringing Sackett over the final.

Notes.

Only three games behind the leaders, with a lead of two games and a half over Clarinda for second place. Kissane is his name, and he does some umpiring, too.

Claud Cook isn't eating up the home runs just at present, but do you notice the scores that are being made on his long flies. He is getting a fair number of hits, too.

We should get two of the games with Shenandoah, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and then next week it will be a scrap here at home with Falls City.

Wintz and Walsh were again to the front in the heavy sticking, Monday, 750 apiece.

SENATE WOKE UP

AFTER MONTHS OF INACTION UPPER HOUSE "GETS A MOVE ON."

RECIPROCITY INEVITABLE

Senator Root Voiced His Conviction That Tariff Legislation Was Demanded by the People.

By VAN CLEVE.

Washington, D. C., June 24.—Within the present week the house of representatives has passed the revision of the wool schedule, refused to concur in the Bristow amendment to the bill for direct election of senators, King George has been crowned, the president has had his party and the senate has come to life. This latter was the most sensational and noteworthy event of all.

After ten weeks of determined inactivity the thunders rolled, the firmament flashed, the winds howled and from the chaotic depths of the mighty unknown there stepped forth, in full battle array, a new and potential force, a coalition of Democrats and insurgents. With glistering armor and intrepid mien they commanded the heretofore imperturbable and impenetrable hosts of the finance committee to come forth, and they straightway came forth and fell upon their knees. How long they will remain there is another question. Whether the allies of today will be allies tomorrow is unknown. They have a common cause to a certain extent, but there are many discordant elements and conflicting interests.

Chairman Penrose of Pennsylvania had explained to the senate boldly and defiantly as the courteous rules of that amiable body will permit, that the committee didn't ever expect to report the free list bill and would insist on a long period of hearings before it would even consider the wool bill. It is now nearly the first of July and the "hearings" dodge is getting threadbare. It is the favorite method of delay, to summon men to come from California and Montana and other far-off states and testify instead of wading into the volumes of testimony already on file here. They held up the reciprocity bill for nine weeks with hearings and then reported it to the senate without any recommendations whatever. Senator Gore had asked that the wool bill affecting only one schedule be reported by July 10. Mr. Penrose insisted it would be impossible, although he admitted that the Payne-Aldrich bill, carrying thirteen schedules and four thousand items, was reported within forty-eight hours after it was received from the house.

That was when the senate woke up. It slept over the proposition one night and then the great finance committee, the citadel of ultra protection and the bulwark behind which trust magnates rest in security, was stormed. It was peremptorily ordered to produce on or before July 10 by a vote of 39 to 18. Mr. Penrose, in a huff at this audacious display of nerve on the part of the senate, found he didn't need so much time and reported both bills next day adversely, of course.

So the whole tariff proposition was before the senate and the members of the house mopped their perspiring brows and began to apply for leaves of absence that they might go home and visit their families before the snow flies. What will happen no man can foresee. The Democrats and insurgents came together on this matter, but not for the same purpose entirely. All hands resented the impudence of the finance committee and grasped the opportunity to show them a new trick independent of standpat shackles. The Democrats wanted to get the bills before the senate because they want to share in the excellent work of the house, and they believe they can marshal enough votes from one source and another to pass them. At least they can get action on them. Senator Bailey is opposed to the reciprocity bill without a general revision of the tariff. The insurgents are opposed to President Taft, most of them, and hope to involve his pet measure in a maze of amendments or pass it in such shape that he will be compelled to veto it or swallow a bitter pill. In either case Mr. Taft will be in the hole and Mr. LaFollette will be happy.

This is a vain hope, however. It was agreed yesterday to vote on the Root amendment Monday, and it is a safe prediction that no amendments will be attached to the bill. The Democrats are determined to give it to the president just as he wants it, and his Republican friends will help to do this. They fear that a general mix up will result in nothing, and John Sharpe Williams of Mississippi says they won't even allow the Lord's prayer to be tacked onto it. So the one thing that seems more certain just now than all others is that the reciprocity bill will be passed just as it came from the house.

There are some evidences that the standpatters have decided that if they can't defeat legislation they will join in on it and save some of the glory to themselves. At least it is evident that the consecrated wall of protection for protection's sake is crumbling. The chief argument of the standpatters against the reciprocity bill has been that it violated the policy of protection, which, according to the ultra protectionist theory is always subject to increase but never to reduction, and that it would establish a precedent that would mean the ultimate breaking down of the tariff wall. This in itself is an admission that it is a good thing for the people, else why should they fear that the people would want more of it?

Senator Root of New York, one of the shrewdest and ablest leaders of the Republican side, made what is considered a remarkable speech this week in defense of the reciprocity bill. It was remarkable simply because of his prominence and his position heretofore with reference to the tariff. Mr. Root stated that he is for the bill, even without the amendment which he insisted on offering in the interest of the paper mills of his state. In arriving at this conclusion he had given due thought to these manufacturing interests and to the considerable number of farmers in his state along the border who feared that reciprocity with Canada might be to their detriment. "Nevertheless," said he, "I do still believe that the enactment of this reciprocal agreement with Canada is for the best and the permanent interest of our country, and I must be for it."

"I think, sir, that my friends, the farmers in New York and the farmers all along the northern border, are unduly apprehensive. I think that they have greatly exaggerated in their own minds the injury which will come to them from the enactment of this measure. It is but natural that they should. All experience in the enactment of tariff laws indicates that those whose business is to be affected greatly exaggerate the injury which they apprehend from any legislation that at all reduces the measure of protection which they have had."

"I think, Mr. President, that the apprehension of injury, which is natural to any class of producers as to whom there is a proposal to reduce the tariff, is very readily to be answered by the fact that the two countries are under substantially the same conditions. There may be little differences in labor cost here and there, but, in general, the labor conditions of Canada and the labor conditions of the United States are the same. It is not a question of competing with the familiar adversary, the pauper labor of Europe. The two countries are similar in their social conditions, in their laws, in their manner of doing business, of thinking and of acting, in their individual independence, and in their power to maintain their wage scale; and the proposal to take down the tariff wall between Canada and the United States, insofar as it is taken down by this reciprocity agreement, is much more like the taking down of a tariff wall between two states than it is the taking down of a tariff wall between the United States and the countries of Europe; and, for reasons which I shall give presently, I think that any ill effect that may be produced upon any of our farmers will be more than counterbalanced by the advantages which they will derive in common with the whole American people from the enactment of the bill."

"I wish to say one word further with special reference to the effect of this law upon the farmer. If I were at home I would say it in private conversation to my farmer friends about me in the country, and that is this: The taking off of the duty on farm products between this country and Canada, while it will in a technical sense, a strict sense, be accomplished by the passage of this bill, nevertheless was inevitable; and if it did not come in this bill it would come in its own way by ordinary tariff legislation."

"No one can mistake, no one ought to be blind himself as to mistake, the changed feeling of the people of this country regarding the tariff as exhibited by the election of last fall, and not only by the election of last fall, but exhibited in 10,000 expressions all over the country and exhibited in the highest degree by the possibility of (Continued on page 2.)

PROGRAM FOR 4TH

AN ABUNDANCE OF ENTERTAINMENT IS ASSURED.

WILL BE A BIG DAY

"Saints Highway" is to Be Dedicated on That Day—The Attractions That Will Be Here.

Unless all signs fail the Fourth of July celebration in Maryville will be a success, and one continuous round of pleasure for everybody. The celebration has been well advertised and a large number of people are expected in the city on that day. The committees in charge of the affair have been untiring in their efforts and have succeeded in arranging a program that ought to appeal to all classes of people and afford genuine entertainment for everybody.

The dedication of the "Saints Highway," which is now established, the signboards being up, will take place on that day, and President Gerlach of Sharpsburg, Ia., and many other officers of the highway will be here. A feature will be an automobile parade in the morning of the Fourth, and autoists along the "Saints Highway," and also in Nodaway county, have been extended an invitation to participate. The St. Joseph Automobile club has been given an invitation to attend.

Another main feature of the celebration will be the basket dinner out in Normal park. The Normal park has been secured and all of the attractions in the afternoon are to be pulled off out there. In the evening the attractions are to be on the court house square.

The day's program will start at 7 o'clock, when a salute of three bombs will be given. Another salute at 8 and one at 9 will be given. From 9 to 10 the Maryville band will march around the business section of the city, furnishing music.

At 10 o'clock a. m. the auto parade will start and will pass around the square and then out to Normal park. It is fully expected that over a hundred out-of-town cars will be in the parade.

Then at 11 o'clock the exercises at the Normal grandstand will take place, which will include speaking, singing and many other features.

From 12 to 1:30 o'clock the basket dinner at Normal park will be given. The farmers who expect to celebrate here are urged to bring their dinners. All of the conveniences necessary will be provided at the park for their comfort.

In the afternoon another salute of three bombs will be given at 1 o'clock, which will be followed by a band concert at the grandstand in the park. At 2 o'clock LaGrecia and Norworth will give their special stunt. These people are Orpheum circuit stars and have a good line of entertainment. There will be another band concert, which will be followed by acrobatic stunts from Price & Ellisberry. At 2:50 Japanese day fireworks will be given, and at 3 LaGrecia and Norworth will give another entertainment.

For the rest of the afternoon band concerts will be given by the Maryville and Silver City, Ia., bands.

A double-header ball game between Maryville and Falls City is scheduled, one game being in the morning at 10 o'clock and the other in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, both games to be played at the ball park.

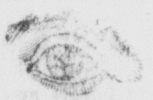

In the evening band concerts will be given in the court house yard, which will be followed by another entertainment by LaGrecia and Norworth. No fireworks will be used at night, as the committee intends that the celebration shall be a safe and sane one.

The merchants and citizens are requested by the committee in charge to decorate their business houses and residences.

The program is one of clean, wholesome entertainment, and one to which Maryville cordially invites the people of the surrounding country. Be sure and come.

He was rendered unconscious for some time after the arrival of a physician. He narrowly escaped being killed, but is doing very well at this time.

Farewell Reception.

The farewell reception at the First Christian church Monday night to Dr. and Mrs. L. O. Bricker and their little daughter, Allene, was very largely attended. Preceding the social hour short talks were given by G. L. Wilfley, W. C. Frank, W. E. Goforth, Mrs. J. E. Douglas and Mrs. W. A. Miller, voicing the appreciation of the membership and congregation of Dr. Bricker and his family and their work together as a church. A nice program of music was given, including the solo by Cowles, "Don't You Mind the Sorrows," by Mrs. F. P. Robinson; a duet, "Sun of My Soul," by Mr. Jerry Saylor and Mr. Ralph Cook of Des Moines, who are in the city visiting Mr. Sayler's parents, Judge and Mrs. J. H. Saylor, and the quartet, "Savior, When Night Involves the Skies," by Mrs. F. P. Robinson, Miss Phyllis Saylor, Mr. W. E. Goforth and Mr. H. J. Becker. Dr. Bricker followed with a farewell response to the speeches, and although his brethren and friends are proud that he has been called to one of the greatest churches in their denomination, they were indeed loth to give him up, and it was a sad time, notwithstanding the effort all made to make the departure of their pastor and his family happy and pleasant. After the speech making and music an informal reception was held and punch was served in the Sunday school room. When it was near time for the train a large crowd went to the Wash depot to see Dr. Bricker and his family off for their new home in Atlanta. Dr. Bricker is loved by his entire church, and his friends among our citizens he counted by hundreds. He is an able minister and speaker and his pastorate here will be gratefully remembered by many.

Free Sample Aids Old Men

The sudden change from years of activity of both body and mind to the quiet of later years causes the human system to undergo many changes, chief of which is in the digestive organs.

It becomes harder and harder to get the bowels to move promptly and regularly and in consequence many elderly men suffer not only from the basic trouble, constipation, but from indigestion, headache, belching, sour stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar annoyances. It is first of all necessary to keep the bowels open and then to tone the digestive muscles so as to get them to again do their work naturally. A violent cathartic or purgative is not only unnecessary but harmful, and something mild will do the work just as well.

After you have got through experimenting with salts and pills and waters of various kinds, and have become convinced that they do only temporary good at best, then try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild, gentle, pleasant-tasting, laxative tonic that is especially adapted to the requirements of old people, women and children, and yet is effective enough for anybody. Your druggist, who has handled it successfully for a quarter of a century, will sell you a bottle for fifty cents or one dollar, but if you want to make a test of it before spending any money send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and he will gladly send you a sample bottle free of charge.

This remedy is rapidly displacing all other forms of medication for the cure of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, and families like Mr. O. F. Wisner's of Savannah, Ill., and Mrs. Carrie Culter's of 325 N. Notre Dame street, South Bend, Ind., are now never without it in the house. They have tested it and know its grand value to every member of the family.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 609 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

TELLS OF TALK WITH HINES.

In Reply to Request for $10,000 Witness Says He Told Hines That Harvester Company Was Not in That Kind of Business.

Washington, June 27.—Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, who gave an account to the Helm bribery investigation committee of an alleged request to him by Edward Hines of Chicago for a $10,000 contribution to ward a $100,000 Lorimer election fund, appeared before the Lorimer senate investigating committee.

As he took the stand, Funk faced Hines, who had been given special permission to attend the hearing instead of being required to stay in the witness room.

Funk repeated his story of the conversation with Hines, in which the request for the $10,000 is said to have been made. He said he told Hines that the harvester company was not in that kind of business and left him.

Funk testified that he had not only been threatened, but that he had been followed by detectives ever since he testified in Springfield. He said four detectives are following him in Washington, two trailing him to the senate building after luncheon. He said one detective confessed he was hired to "get anything on him he could."

Funk tried without result to discover the detectives in the audience. He protested against making public the name of the man who confessed, saying he was a "nice fellow" and that he had given his word not to reveal his name.

"I got him in a place where he had to tell me," said Funk. "He said he was not proud of the job, but had to do it."

Funk said the man was employed by the Thiele detective agency of Chicago; that he had told him who his employer was, and the witness added that the employer was not Senator Lorimer. Attorney Hynes and Senator Gamble insisted upon the name, and Funk replied:

"Put Edward Hines on the witness stand if you want to find out to whom the detective reports."

The committee immediately went into executive session to consider this matter.

At the executive session, Funk is said to have revealed the detective's name and promised to produce him before the committee if possible. This committee then took up consideration of steps to prevent detectives interfering with witnesses.

"No one may suppose that this arrangement could be made by the president, carried through the house, certain of passage here in the senate, if there were not a great public opinion behind it. What we say here is of little consequence. Our arguments do not advance or retard it. It is moving along with a public opinion behind it."

"I never have thought that the duties which were imposed upon farm products were of any real general benefit to the farmer. They have been quite indifferent, affecting only several localities here and there, so long as our production ran far ahead of our consumption."

So here is the testimony of the great Ellihu Root. He admitted in the course of his remarks that the day of ultra protection has gone never to return, and he went further and told his followers who have been assuming that protection should be levied for individual protection that that policy was no longer defensible, and that no tariff should be levied that did not have for its object the benefit of the whole country.

Mr. Taft, speaking in Rhode Island last night, delivered himself of this important statement:

"We must recognize that the time of the Chinese wall is gone, and the time is gone when an industry must ask for more protection than it absolutely needs."

Indeed a remarkable statement coming from the man who said the Payne-Aldrich tariff law was the best ever enacted. Bill once was deaf, but now he hears.

OBITUARY.

Following is an obituary notice of the late Mrs. Mary McGrew, who died at her home, six miles west of Barnard, June 21, after a residence there of forty-one years:

Mary Shaner was born in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, April 10, 1828. On the 30th day of April, 1846, she was united in marriage to Archibald B. McGrew. To this union fourteen children were born, seven of whom are living. They are Mrs. Mary E. Bigelow of Denver, Col.; Mrs. Rebecca B. Heflin of Wilcox, Mo.; Hallie May, who has always lived at home; Charles O. McGrew, who resides on the old homestead; Brintnel N. McGrew, on an adjoining farm; Daniel W. McGrew of Graham, Mo.; Jessie F., the wife of Charles J. Colden of Maryville.

On the 20th day of August, 1870, Mrs. McGrew and her family settled on the farm six miles west of Barnard, where the rest of her life was spent. Her husband died there a few years later, leaving her with a large family of small children, to whom she devoted her life, and they were not ungrateful to her, when, because of the infirmities of age, she needed their care and attention.

Some fifty years ago she obeyed the gospel of Christ, and through all the succeeding half century she continued faithful to her vows.

On the 21st day of June, 1911, her spirit passed to the God who gave it. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon of June 22 seats were arranged under the spreading branches of the great trees which her hands had planted in the yard at the old home, where a number of friends had gathered, and after a sermon by Elder W. A. Chapman of Rosendale, who was her pastor for several years, the body was laid to rest in Bethany cemetery.

SENATE REJECTS ROOT AMENDMENT

Proposal to Change Pulp and Paper Section Lost.

ROLL CALL IS NOT DEMANDED

Friends and Enemies of Canadian Reciprocity Refuse to Vote for Change. Leaves Measure Open to General Fight That is to Follow.

Washington, June 27.—The Canadian reciprocity bill emerged from its first ordeal in the senate unscathed. The Root amendment, proposing a modification of the wood pulp and print paper section of the agreement, was defeated after seven hours of debate by an overwhelming vote. The friends of the amendment were so satisfied of its defeat that a roll call was not demanded.

This leaves the reciprocity measure open to the general fight that is to follow for amendment of important provisions in the Payne tariff law. Senator La Follette announced that he would give the senate a chance to pass on general tariff amendments for free paper, free lumber and lumber products, and for reductions in other schedules. Senator Clapp also announced his intention of offering a free paper amendment later, and other senators gave evidence of their purpose to force consideration of tariff revision on the widest plane.

Attack on the Root amendment was interspersed with attack on the whole reciprocity measure in the debate which resulted in the defeat of Senator Root's proposal to change the house bill by requiring that all Canadian provinces should remove their export restrictions on pulp wood and its products before the reciprocal features of the wood pulp and print paper section of the agreement went into effect.

Senator Thornton (La.) denounced the measure on the ground that it discriminated against the agricultural element.

MRS. SPRINGER TESTIFIES

Throws Light on Quarrel Preceding Double Killing in Denver Hotel.

Denver, June 27.—All bars against the testimony of Mrs. John W. Springer in the trial of Frank H. Henwood for the murder of George Copeland were thrown down by District Attorney Elliott when the trial was resumed, when he withdrew his objections to the introduction of testimony tending to show threats against Henwood by Sylvester L. Von Phul previous to the shooting. Mrs. Springer was immediately summoned to appear in court.

Mrs. Springer testified to threats made by Henwood against Van Phul. She also testified that Von Phul had struck her the evening before the shooting affray and twice on previous occasions. She had told Henwood of these acts. She also said that Von Phul had taken from the apartments of herself and husband two photographs of Henwood and had torn them up in her presence.

ALASKA COAL CLAIMS VOID

Secretary Fisher Makes Decision in Cunningham Case.

EVIDENCE OF FRAUD APPARENT

Finding of Commissioner Dennett, Which Discusses Evidence at Length, Is Approved—Says New Laws Are Needed in Alaska.

Washington, June 27.—The famous Cunningham Alaskan coal lands claims, through which it has been alleged that the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate had planned to extend their vast interests to Alaska and to control one of the most valuable fields in the world, were finally disallowed by the department of the interior.

Secretary of Interior Walter Fisher, having approved the department's decision as handed down by Fred Dennett, commissioner of the land office, the last door is believed to have been closed to the Cunningham claimants. Their attorneys have threatened an appeal to the United States supreme court, but such an appeal can be based only on some point of law involved, and not on the findings of fact, as announced by the department.

The Cunningham claims have been in the public eye constantly for more than two years past. They brought about the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation by congress and the dismissal from the public services of Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot, Louis R. Glavis, a chief of field division in the land office, and several minor officials. Both Messrs. Pinchot and Glavis were dismissed for insubordination incident to their attacks on former Secretary Ballinger, whom they claimed was favorably disposed toward the claims.

New Laws Are Needed.

In announcing the decision of the department, Secretary Fisher, who succeeded Ballinger in March last, declared that new coal land laws are needed in Alaska if that territory is to be developed properly. In a statement the secretary said:

"This is a final decision of the Cunningham claims so far as the department of the interior is concerned. Any further proceedings will be merely formal for the purpose of perfecting the record in case the claimants think there are questions of law which they desire to present to the courts. It is my understanding that it is conceded that the finding upon the facts by the department are conclusive.

"It is the intention of the department to proceed at once to a final determination of all the remaining Alaskan coal claims so far as this can properly be done, denying those that should be denied and granting those that should be granted as rapidly as possible."

Evidences of Fraud Apparent.

Commissioner Dennett, in his decision holding the claims for cancellation on the ground of fraud, declares that each of the thirty-three entries was improperly allowed because of fatal defects apparent on their face. He asserts that the government conclusively established the charges brought against the claimants and there is no doubt that an agreement existed among them in violation of the law.

The thirty-three claims involved amounted to an aggregate of 5,250 acres. The value of the land has been estimated high in the millions. The coal embraced in the claims is said to be among the finest in the world.

Commissioner Dennett makes frequent reference to the work of Glavis in prosecuting the government's case against the Cunningham claimants. He also refers at length to the negotiations between Cunningham and representatives of the Guggenheims, who were shown at the Ballinger-Pinchot hearing to have taken an option on these coal lands, which were to be worked in connection with the other extensive Guggenheim interests in Alaska.

The government charges against Cunningham and his associates that their entries of the coal land were made in pursuance of an understanding and agreement, entered into by all the claimants prior to location, to combine the several claims for the joint use and benefit of all. It was further claimed that the entries were made with the unlawful purpose that they should inure to the use and benefit of an association or corporation.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.

Everybody Knows Something About Lumber Values

these days, but the homebuilder who listens to the cry of "wait until lumber is cheaper" is not apt to be any nearer his goal on his deathbed than he is today. The Government recommends TIMBER CONSERVATION and this alone is proof that lumber has a fixed value.

Our years of experience in buying and selling lumber lead us to advise our friends that NOW'S THE TIME TO BUILD. There's but one crop of timber for most of us. If you contemplate a new home we want to talk with you—we have all grades of lumber. The lowest quality starts at good and goes up. Give us a call and learn the facts about these lumber values.
